Research Interest	Graham is Head of the School of Engineering at Galway Mayo Institute of Technology (GMIT), Ireland. Graham is a visiting Professor at the University of New South Wales (Australia) and Hanken School of Economics (Finland). Prior to joining GMIT Graham was Associate Professor of Logistics at UNSW, Australia where he was the course director of the MSc in Logistics Engineering. Graham completed his PhD studies in the area of Civil Military Cooperation / Coordination at the Logistics Institute, University of Hull, for which he was awarded the James Cooper Memorial Cup for best PhD in Logistics and Supply Chain Management by the Chartered Institute of Logistics and Transport. Prior to entering academia Graham spent fourteen years working in the Irish
	Defence Forces both at home and abroad in a variety of logistical engineering appointments, as well as spending time seconded to Humanitarian agencies in a logistical capacity. Graham's research interests are broadly in the intersections between global logistics engineering/supply chain management, service operations management, and humanitarian logistics.
